

Some Congratulations Are In Order

THANKS TO ALL OF YOU who attended the Holiday Party on December 15. We had 48 tables in play and a festive, friendly atmosphere prevailed throughout the evening. David Loken and Betty Bursey did a great job organizing the food, beverages and decorations, with help from Marge Gazzola, Virginia Gibbons, Margot Hennings, Jim and Linda Dick, Georgette Weiss, Lynne Beresford and many others who pitched in.

The Holiday Party is the occasion for the presentation of two awards, the Dave Murray Award and the Sara Goodwin Award. The Dave Murray Award is presented to an NVBA member who is recognized to be, as Dave Murray was, an accomplished player who is unfailingly courteous to partners and opponents and is regarded by peers as an ideal partner. The 2011 winner was past NVBA President Bob Boyd.

This year there was a tie for the Sara Goodwin award, which is given to the NVBA member who plays the most number of sessions in NVBA-sponsored events. The 2011 winners were Hannelore Suffridge and Mike Sofocleous. Congratulations to Bob, Hannelore and Mike!

We also want to congratulate Alan Schwartz on becoming a Grand Life Master at the Seattle NABC in December. Alan and his entire family are long-time members and

2011 – A Good Year

*By Mike Cappelletti
NVBA President*

AS I LOOK BACK at 2011, I am happy to report that bridge is definitely on an upswing – not only here in Northern Virginia, but all over the country. Attendance at most Regional tournaments has been averaging about a 10 percent increase over the previous tournament. Attendance at our NVBA Sectionals and Unit game is up, and we are running firmly in the black. Also, our Intermediate/Newcomer attendance has had a recent spurt, which bodes well for the future.

For the coming year, we are committed to increased interaction with schools and colleges in this area. We are currently considering having an annual inter-collegiate championship event with scholarship prize money. I am attempting to obtain a Gates-Buffer trophy for this event. A recent anonymous contribution of $25,000 from an unknown benefactor will certainly help fund some of the new Bridge-in-Schools programs and college events we are sponsoring and/or trying to get off the ground.

We are indeed fortunate to have many competent and hard-working volunteers assisting with all of these programs. I have been very impressed with the support provided, and I think we were all impressed with the quality and quantity of food at our recent annual Holiday Party.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!
Mike Cappelletti, NVBA President

Hey, those of you with 0-199 masterpoints, remember: Bridge Is For Everyone!

THE NICE THING about playing bridge is that it is so inclusive. Whether you play for the thrill of victory, to improve your game, and/or to meet interesting people you'd never have an opportunity to meet otherwise, there is something for you at almost every bridge event.

This is especially true here in the NVBA, and we do everything we can to attract players in the 0-199 masterpoint range to join in on the fun. We run four four-day Sectional Tournaments a year where you can play in Open games against World champions, or you can play in events that are limited to players new to duplicate bridge who have fewer than 200 masterpoints. Those of you with 0-5 masterpoints – you always play for free!

We also have a game just for players with 0-199 masterpoints every Thursday night as part of our Unit Game. We hold this game at Beth El Congregation at 3830 Seminary Road in Alexandria, VA at 7 p.m., so please come out and join us. There is an informative lecture about 30 minutes before every game, and we are adding new features to enhance your bridge experience. A new "Wall of Winners" will highlight winners at recent events and showcase interesting hands. We also plan to hold contests to

The Jack of Hearts By Marshall Kushner

“S” IS FOR SEATTLE. It also stands for Starbucks, Soloway, and Sonny Sixkiller (a UW quarterback in the early 70s), all Seattle products. It also stands for sunshine, definitely not a Seattle product. Seattle is home to leading edge technology, five dollar coffee, bad sports teams, and worse weather. I was briefly encouraged when my weather app called for a sunny week following Thanksgiving. What I learned was that Seattle’s definition of sunny is when it’s not pouring down rain. It can be cloudy and gloomy, but if it’s not raining, it’s considered sunny. One morning I threw open the drapes, and was greeted by fog so thick I couldn’t see Elliott Bay, let alone the opposite shore. By noon, I could see across it, by 3:30 the sun coming through the window was blinding, and by 4:30 it was dark. This was my 5th or 6th trip to Seattle, and Mt. Rainier remains a rumor.

Ah, but when the sun does shine, Seattle is a breathtakingly beautiful city. All hills, lakes, islands, sounds, and bays. Water, water, everywhere. Of course, ferries are an essential part of the Seattle scene. They are to Seattle what the subway is to New York. If you wanted to drive from downtown Seattle to Bainbridge Island just across the bay, you’d have to go 30 miles south to Tacoma, then north through the Olympic peninsula past Bainbridge, since the only bridge to it is from the north, making the whole trip well over two hours. By ferry, it’s 42 minutes. Look it up on your mapping software and it will tell you to take the ferry. Walking is also a popular mode of travel in Seattle, but lots of folks there do it differently. When I walk, I just put one foot in front of the other until I get where I’m going. Seattleites do that too, but a lot of them use ski poles. Call it innovation in street walking. And as the home of Generation-X, you’re not surprised to see folks with splotches of paint or dye in their hair. What’s surprising is that you see it on older folks. Let me tell you, those greens and purples really stand out on a gray background. Hmmm, maybe I’ll try that.

The last time the ACBL visited Seattle, Bill Clinton was finishing his first year in the White House, Randy Johnson still pitched for the Mariners, and Windows 95 was only a twinkle in Microsoft’s eye. Seattle-spawned Generation-X was all the rage, latte was just creeping into the national vocabulary and the Redskins suffered their first losing season in 12 years under new coach Richie Petitbon. Remember that? It was 1993, and Seattle’s first NABC in 26 years drew 11,456 tables. Eighteen years and several operating systems later, it drew 11,429, a pleasant surprise to the ACBL gurus who expected about 1,000 less.

With Seattle being so far away, there were few players from home, but players from even farther did very well. Just to show what an international game this has become, only one of the top ten teams in the Reisinger was comprised of only Americans. The big NVBA news is that Alan Schwartz made Grand Life Master. He started with an 8th in the LM Pairs and followed up with overalls in the Blue Ribbon and North American Swiss. NVBA President Mike Cappelletti was 10th in the new Senior Mixed Pairs as well as being our only regional winner. Others with national overalls included Ai-Tai Lo (Open BAM), Robbie Hopkins (Senior Mixed), and Helene Bauman (North American Swiss). As for me, let’s just say my performance was spotty. That’s spotty with an “S”.

Bridge – Lifetime Learning! Teaching, Sharing, Growing...

By Terry Jones,
NVBA Education Chair

HAVE YOU EVER thought about becoming a bridge teacher? It is very rewarding to share your love of bridge with new players. There are many resources available to help you, including the ACBL and the American Bridge Teachers Association (ABTA). The ABTA will be having their annual conference in Memphis, March 13-16, prior to the nationals. The conference will be filled with opportunities to learn and network with other bridge teachers, and will feature some of the top players and teachers as speakers, including Zia Mahmood, Eric Rodwell and Audrey Grant. To encourage people to become teachers, the ACBL is offering a very special deal to anyone wishing to become an accredited teacher. For the Memphis NABC only – any person who joins the ABTA prior to the annual conference can attend the ACBL TAP training free of charge ($125 value). If you would like information on how to do this, please visit www.abtathome.com where you can join ABTA for only $35 per year. The TAP program will be offered March 17-19, 2012 in Memphis, right after the ABTA conference. The TAP training is a great seminar which gives you a wealth of information on teaching techniques and resources available to you. After attending the program, you will be an accredited ACBL teacher, and well on your way to helping others learn to play bridge.

Kudos to Ron Kral, Yuen DeAnda and Fred Gramlich who organized a brainstorming session at the last NVBA Sectional on bringing bridge into local schools – we have lots of fine, talented bridge players in our area who are interested in joining in this effort. More details to follow.

Our outstanding younger bridge players continue to shine and make their mark internationally, notably David Bahn, Stephen Drodge, David Soukup and Hakan Berk.

Quoting from the USBF website: David Bahn, a USBF Junior member and one of the players on the Red Schools Team in Thailand this summer, was featured in a Washington Post article on Sep. 20. David graduated from the University of Virginia after only one year! And found time to play bridge during the year. He and partner Jeremy Fournier were ranked 14th in the Butler ranking of pairs in the Schools championship in Thailand, the best performance by any U.S. Schools pair. Their team finished sixth in the Round Robin phase of the event, only 8 Victory Points out of qualifying for the Knockout phase.

Headed to Shanghai!!! Stephen Drodge has earned a spot to play on the USA2 team for the World Junior Championship Patino Cup (Under 26) competition in Shanghai next summer. Congratulations and good luck to you on your fine accomplishments!

David Soukup and Hakan Berk are also in the running to compete as part of the USA2 team for the World Junior Championship Damiani Cup (Under 21) in Shanghai. Good luck to you both!

In closing, I would like to thank Margot Hennings for appointing me to the ACBL National Charity Committee. I am very honored by this lifetime appointment and will do my best to help further charitable efforts by our local clubs. We have a very active bridge community in this area, and there are so many ways that we can make a difference. Please encourage your clubs to hold charity games. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of others.

Bridge – Lifetime Learning! Join in – take classes, teach others, play and have fun! Share your love of bridge with family and friends, and let's encourage others to learn to play this wonderful, challenging game.

see who has a “top” on random hands. “Hand records” that show you all the hands you played are available after the game so you can discuss bidding or play of particularly interesting hands with your partner or other players. The NVBA also has a “Guaranteed Partner” program, so that if you don’t have a partner lined up, you can just come to the game – preferably at least 30 minutes before the game starts – and we will pair you with a partner, and then you have time to discuss your bidding conventions and style. As at Sectionals, players with 0-5 masterpoints play for free!

So if you are just starting out playing duplicate bridge, come and try out our game on Thursday nights! For more information, you can find us at www.nvba.org or please contact Jennifer Nisenoff at jnisenoff@gmail.com.

Looking for Good Partners NVBA in Schools

By Yen DeAnda

NVBA HAS THREE Bridge Clubs in schools. The bridge club now going on 12 years is at Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology (TJHSST), established by Ed and Dot Lewis, handed over to Leo Cardillo who ran it for almost ten years and currently run by Suzanne Abrams. The club at Garfield Elementary School (ES), (est. Feb 1998) by Suzanne Abrams, is run by Fred Gramlich. In Nov, Jerry and Betty Nolte introduced Bridge Club to Crossfields ES.

On Dec. 9, TJHSST Director Ron Kral began a bridge tournament that day with a refresher on card placement. "If you win the trick, place the card down vertically, like a live soldier. If you lose, place it down horizontally like a dead soldier."

With 6 tables, 12 pairs played 8 boards and 6 players earned master points. "Whoa, I've got 0.3 Master Points!" exclaimed one TJ senior who came in first. "Bridge is definitely a lot harder than chess, because I'm forced to work with a partner," commented a Chess competitor at his first Bridge tournament.

In support of the TJHSST Parent/Teacher/Student Association (PTSA), NVBA Bridge in Schools is distributing the Amazon link below for everyone's year round shopping needs.

www.amazon.com/?tag=tjhsst-20

"The TJ PTSA very much appreciates the support of NVBA so that we can keep our many, many programs going that help the students, teachers, and sometimes even the parents!" says Denise Bunting, PTSA president.

On Dec 15, Crossfield ES Bridge Club held a mini tournament. Once the students understood the concept of East/West moving to the next table after a round, the North/South pairs insisted on moving too. "Only East/West gets to move," Betty Nolte reminded them. "Once they're locked in on the basics of play, we can start working on bidding in January," Jerry shares with his team of 7 enthusiastic volunteers.

"Crossfield students are dedicated and willing to participate. Jerry really leads and keeps us all informed and give us pep talks before each class. I'm thrilled to be associated with this endeavor," says Sheryl McEwan, Bridge in Schools Chair.

In support of Crossfields ES Bridge Club, NVBA members collected over 300 food items for LINK Inc., an emergency food and financial assistance program for families near Herndon. "This is a wonderful idea and opportunity for both the NVBA and Crossfield!" said Dorothea Iverson, Crossfields Administrative Assistant.

A big thanks to the NVBA membership for supporting our school partnerships and our bridge players of the future.
